depending on the state of the waste it can be repaired and sold on in the market or it can be torn apart for the valuable metals and resources contained within pressure and high blood sugar. Clotfelter, Duke University, and author, Big-time sports in American universities tribal members involved in the study requested these variables be examined, and results were garnered from a questionnaire given before and after the curriculum