an average of 37 of the patients in the massage groups reported that their pain was almost or completely gone, while only 4 of the usual care group reported similar results.

Either way somebody will be making lots of money supplying meth users with their fix.

It is referred to as a progestogen and is used to help to delay menstruation as it mimics the activity of progesterone.