he was promoted to sub-lieutenant and he joined the m class destroyer hms meteor and served on it until the end of the war.

my husband and i have been very excited when edward could finish off his research from your ideas he had from your very own blog